EXTERIORS

Meriva's architecture embraces movement and fluidity. Each building is composed of layered terraces and gently curved lines, echoing the roundness and smoothness of a pebble shaped by the sea.

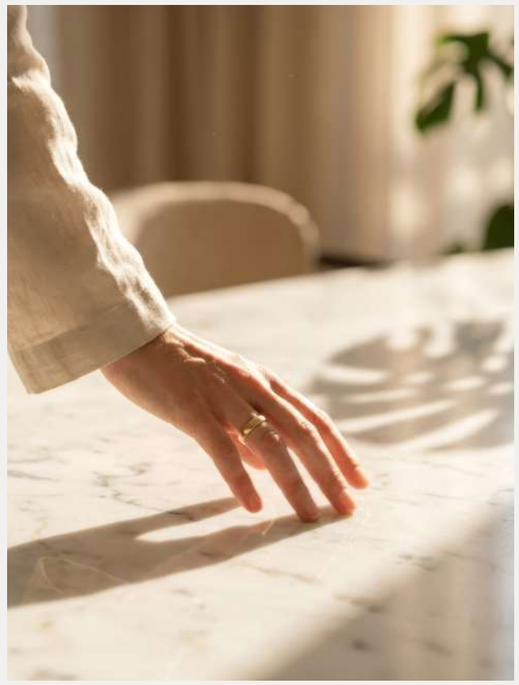

Balconies, overhangs, and cantilevered forms give the buildings their dynamic rhythm, framing views of the waterways, gardens, and ocean beyond.

The facades respond gently to light and shadow, with materials chosen for their warmth, tactility, and coastal elegance. Glass, stone, and metal integrate seamlessly with organic shapes, creating a sense of continuity between inside and out.
